

BODY BIOGRAPHY PROJECT

MACBETH BIOGRAPHY PROJECT CATEGORIES

1. Direct Quotes: Three direct quotations from the story that sum up the character and add to an understanding of the character. These quotes do not necessarily need to be spoken by the character. Possibly, another character says them in regard to your character.
2. Virtues: What are your character's best qualities?
3. Vices: What are your character's worst qualities? This can be weaknesses and flaws.
4. Loves / Cares About: This should represent what this character loves most.
5. Thoughts about inner-self / Appears to others: Consider both how your character appears to others on the surface and what you know about the character's inner-self (what the character really thinks about their own self).
6. Tries to Control: What is an example of how your character tries to seek control.
7. Symbols: What objects can you associate/relate with your character? Colors can also have a symbolic meaning.
8. Goals: What does this character want? What actions do they take? These actions often create the conflict. How does this character's goals create the conflict?
9. Best Accomplishment: What is this character's best achievement? What is their proudest moment?
10. Challenge: What is standing in your character's way? What is holding them back from achieving their goal? Is this someone? Or a character flaw? An event?
11. Physical Appearance / Description: What You Notice First. These are defining traits or features about the character. These are aspects that are visually apparent, knowing nothing else about the person. The first thing you see when you look at someone could be their hair, clothes, nose, or figure.
12. Stayed the Same / Changed: Is this character static or dynamic? Are there any changes that this character has "undergone?" Changes are notable in the text are usually within the character. Could be outlook, insight or understanding. Commonly, changes in commitment, in values, allegiance, stature. Not all characters are dynamic. Find evidence of both.

BODY BIOGRAPHY PROJECT CHECKLIST

CHARACTER: _____

Members: _____

☐ Direct Quotes

- ☐ They are quality, wise, memorable, explain/describe the character or character's personality; etc. It should not be random.

☐ Appearance/Physical Description

- ☐ You explain what the character looks like including his/her age, and other physical features described in the book.

☐ Thoughts About Inner-Self

- ☐ How a character feels about him/herself is not directly stated in the text. Therefore, you have to consider how he/she acts, what they say about themselves, how they "treat" themselves, as well as how others talk about them. You must provide evidence from the text to support your answer.

☐ Loves/Cares About

- ☐ These might not be directly stated either. However, we can typically determine what people love and care about based on what they spend time doing or talking about.

☐ Strengths

- ☐ You might have to do some inferring! Often are strengths are seen by others instead of ourselves. Therefore, we might have to infer what his/her strengths are by looking at what good qualities they possess. Remember a strength can be internal or external.

☐ Symbols:

- ☐ You can use pictures to represent what the character's embody or you can use words or colors. For example, friendship, greed (or green), etc.

☐ Vices (Weaknesses)

- ☐ Make some inferences! What is the character not good at? Like strengths, these can be external or internal weaknesses. Sometimes the weakness can be a person.

☐ Values/Beliefs

- ☐ What we value and believe in tend to be more abstract than what we love. Think about what qualities your character values and how you know based on their actions and the characters they like versus dislike.

☐ Wants To Control

- ☐ Everyone wants to control something. Sometimes this is a part of his/her life, someone who is causing them problems, or a conflict he/she has with the time period. Decide what he/she wants to control and why he/she would want to control that idea, person, etc.

☐ Changed/Same (Dynamic / Static)

- ☐ Some characters never change; they are static. Other characters change throughout the text; they are dynamic. When deciding whether the character changed or stayed the same, make sure you are focusing on their goals/beliefs/thoughts of self, etc. Mortality (living or dying) does not change who a person is.

☐ Goal

- ☐ This is something we might need to infer. When you look at the character's action, what do they seem to be striving for? We all have goals even if we don't voice them.

☐ Family, Personality, Background, Conflict

- ☐ Family refers to who is in his/her family or who he/she consider family.
- ☐ Personality is what the character is like overall. For example, are they shy, outgoing, friendly, angry, etc.
- ☐ Background refers to where he/she comes from. This can be based on his/her socioeconomic status or how the character grew up.
- ☐ Conflict is what the character struggles with. A conflict can be internal or external.

☐ Challenges

- ☐ What are the difficult things the character is going through? The challenge usually is causing part of the problems for the character in the text. This can be something from before the book started.

☐ Best Accomplishment

- ☐ A character's best accomplishment is something he/she did in the book that brings that character pride. This is not always directly stated in the text.

•OVERALL: Make sure you have neat handwriting, use complete sentences, and provide examples from the text to support your answers. It would be wise to write in pencil and then trace or to type out your answers and then write them down. Make sure your coloring is done neatly!

Body Biography Project Response Rubric

CHARACTER: _____

Members: _____

Categories	5	4	3	2	1-0
3 Direct Quotes	You have three quotes by or about the character. They all relate to the character and tell us something about his/her character.	You have three quotes by or about the character but one of them is not related to the character and doesn't help us gain an understanding about him/her.	You have three quotes by or about the character but two of them are not related to the character and do not help us gain an understanding about him/her.	You have two quotes by or about the character but neither tell anything about the character.	You do not have three direct quotes or you have one quote and it is not related to the character.
Appearance / Physical Description	You state what the character looks like in complete sentences. You include the character's age (approximate if needed) and you explain their overall appearance.	You state the character's overall appearance in complete sentences, but there were important details missing.	You state the character's overall appearance but do not use complete sentences to complete the task with little detail.	You use a simple list to state what the character looks like and provide no detail.	You state what the character looks like but details or information is incorrect.
Thoughts About Inner-Self	You state what the character thinks about him/herself and provide evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state what the character thinks about him/herself and provide some detail from the text to support your answer.	You state what the character thinks about him/herself and provide little evidence to support your answer.	You state what the character thinks about him/herself and provide no detail to support your answer.	You don't state what the character thinks about him/herself or the information is disconnected.
Weaknesses / Vices	You state two or three vices the character has and how you know these are his/her weaknesses with evidence from the text.	You state one or two vices the character has and how you know these are his/her weaknesses with evidence from the text.	You state one or two vices the character has but do not use any evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state one vice and provide no explanation to support your answer.	You state a general weakness with no further explanation.
Strengths	You state two or three strengths the character has and how you know these are his/her strengths with evidence from the text.	You state one or two strengths the character has and how you know these are his/her strengths with evidence from the text.	You state one or two strengths the character has but do not use any evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state one strength and provide no explanation to support your answer.	You state a general strength with no further explanation.
Loves / Cares About	You state what the character loves in complete sentences with evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state what the character loves in complete sentences with some evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state what the character loves in complete sentences but provide no evidence to support your answer.	You list what the character loves and provide no explanation.	You list what the character loves but it is disconnected.
Symbols	You have all four symbols filled in and they make sense.	You have all four symbols filled in and one of them does not connect to the text.	You have three of the symbols fills in and they are connect to the character.	You have three of the symbols filled in and one of them does not connect to the text.	You have less than 3 symbols and they somewhat make sense.
Values / Beliefs	You state what the character values in complete sentences with evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state what the character values in complete sentences with some evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state what the character values in complete sentences but provide no evidence to support your answer.	You list what the character values and provide no explanation.	You list what the character values but it is disconnected.

Body Biography Project Response Rubric

CHARACTER: _____

Members: _____

Categories	5	4	3	2	1-0
Changed / Same (Dynamic / Static)	You state whether the character is static or dynamic and how you know using complete sentences and evidence from the text.	You state whether the character is static or dynamic and how you know using complete sentences but evidence is not sufficient.	You state whether the character is static or dynamic but do not use complete sentences to explain your answer.	You state whether the character is static or dynamic but your explanation does not make sense with your answer.	You state whether the character is static or dynamic and you provide no explanation.
Wants to Control	You state what the character wants to control in complete sentences with evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state what the character wants to control in complete sentences with some evidence from the text to support your answer.	You state what the character wants to control in complete sentences but provide no evidence to support your answer.	You list what the character wants to control and provide no explanation.	You list what the character wants to control but it is disconnected.
Goal	You state the character's goal in complete sentences and defend your answer using sufficient evidence from the text.	You state the character's goal in complete sentences and defend your answer using some evidence.	You state the goal but provide no evidence to support your answer.	You state the character's goal but it has no connection to the story.	You state the character's goal but it is not something that can be achieved.
Family / Personality / Background / Conflict	You completed all four components and they all make sense.	You completed three components and each makes sense.	You four of the components but two of the four do not make sense.	You complete three of the components but two of the three don't make sense.	You completed two or fewer components.
Accomplishment	You state what the character's best accomplishment is in complete sentences and provide sufficient evidence to support your answer.	You state the character's best accomplishment is in complete sentences and defend your answer using some evidence.	You state the character's best accomplishment is in a complete sentence but provide no evidence to support your answer.	You state the character's best accomplishment is but it has no connection to the story.	You state the character's best accomplishment is but it is not something that can be achieved.
Challenge	You state one or two challenges the character faces in complete sentences and provide evidence to support your answer.	You state one or two challenges the character faces in complete sentences and provide some evidence to support your answer.	You state one or two challenges the character faces in complete sentences but provide no evidence to support your answer.	You state one or two challenges the character faces.	You state one challenge the character faces.
Conventions	You have 0-1 grammatical errors.	You have 2-3 grammatical errors.	You have 4-5 grammatical errors.	You have 6-8 grammatical errors.	You have 9+ grammatical errors.
Aesthetic	You have a completely colored project that is neat and pleasing to look at.	You have full color and it is mostly neat.	You have most of it colored and it's overall neat.	You lack color and it is sloppily done.	You have little to no color and it is sloppily done.

Grade: ____/80